

Executive Program in Food Regulatory Affairs

Let your food be your medicine and your medicine be your food.
By Hippocrates

Course Overview

Agriculture forms the major sector of the Indian economy and employing 60% of the labour force leading to availability of a large raw material production base for the food processing industries. With the use of new agricultural technologies the production of agricultural crops immensely the reason for the Food processing industries growing fast in India. Regulatory Affairs in food is a new developing area for the companies who look for the trained or expertise personnel who are well versed with food licensing, safety rules etc.

BII has introduced the course Executive Program in Food Regulatory Affairs with an aim to impart the training to the students in the specialized field. Food Regulatory is fastest growing industry with a demand of expertise professionals.. The advantage of BII is its well established credential in conducting Pharma Regulatory Affairs and life services education and life sciences education.

“The goal of the food safety professional should be to create food safety culture, not food safety program”

Food Standards

Course Objectives

The course has been formulated with following objectives:

- To endow the essential knowledge and skills required to work in a regulatory environment of Food Industry.
- To sharpen the understanding of the rules & regulations that governs the Manufacturing & Exports of Food and its products (Including Sea food, Food Additives & Ingredients)
- To provide the knowledge with respect to Import & Exports of Food and Food products
- To be able to write & review food regulatory documents

Course Curriculum

Paper-I: Introduction to Food Regulatory Affairs

- Food safety & its concepts
- Introduction to FSMA (Food Safety Modernization ACT)
- Food GMP and its regulations
- Food laws & regulations from farm to Table
- Food Facility Registration
- Prior Notice of Imported Foods
- Import Refusals
- Exporting food

Paper-II Food Regulatory Authorities

- Food Regulation in Europe (Additives, GMOs, novel foods)
- Food Regulations & Guidelines in India(FSSAI)
- Food Licensing & Registration in India
- Food Labeling
- Documentation

Eligibility:

Any Graduate

Accomplishments from the Course

The aim of the professional course is to cater the food industry needs trained regulatory affair professionals and the certification would help the participants to get the jobs of Auditors, quality assurance executives, quality managers, position in NPD (new product development) team, food regulatory consultants etc. The outcomes of the course are:

- To gain knowledge and conversant in key regulatory practices for eligible supervisory and managerial positions in the food industry.

